In event of an attack upon the Provisional government without the consent of Congress, the citizens will occupy the executive building and premises and defend them to the utmost. They will probably muster twelve hundred rifles. Many are sharpshooters. They have three Maxim guns and two Gatlings, besides the government batteries. Resistance will be made from behind entrenchments. They have no doubt of being able to hold the situation against any organized force now in the harbor. The ships cannot shell the premises without destroying the property of the Europeans and Germans as well as the Americans.

At a special session of the council on the 30th ult. a strong demand was made by a majority of the members for immediate dismissal of the royalists from the government service. Minister Damon aroused a strong antagonism to himself by opposing the application of the rule to his own department. Damon has always befriended the natives and half whites, but it is felt now to be carrying that sentiment too far.

The government last week notified the foreign representatives that warships in port should hereafter land no armed men for shore drill without first obtaining special consent of the government, as such landing caused alarm. Minister Willis expressed his cordial approbation of the government's action.

CHICAGO'S UNEMPLOYED.

They Will be Furnished Food and Shelter by the City.

CHICAGO, Dec. 12.—Food and shelter will be furnished to the poor by the city. Under the direction of the finance committee of the council lodgings will be rented in the three divisions of the city as soon as suitable quarters can be found, and provision will be made for feeding the hungry. Money is to be raised by public subscription and the chairman of the committee, Alderman Madden, is so confident that the response to the appeal will be general that he feels warranted in contracting obligations at once.

PRENDERGAST'S TRIAL.

The Jury Secured to Try Carter Harrison's Murderer.

CHICAGO, Dec. 12.—A jury to try Patrick Eugene Prendergast for the murder of Carter Harrison was secured this afternoon, after four days' work in Judge Brentano's court. The twelfth man accepted was W. F. White. He was the 207th man examined, and when he was added to the number chosen and the jury was complete, an adjournment was taken until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, when the opening addresses to the jury will be made on behalf of the State by Mr. Todd, the assistant State's attorney.

Seven of the jurymen are native Americans, two Germans, one French and one Scot. There was general comment when the jury was secured upon the high class of the men who are to pass upon the question of Prendergast's sanity, for that is really the question to be decided, the defense having repeatedly stated during the search for jurors that the facts of the homicide would be admitted as set forth in the indictment, and that their entire defense would be on the plea of insanity. The jurymen are all citizens with well established places in the business life of the city.

Denver and Gulf R. R. Affairs.

DENVER, Dec. 12.—Railroad men are greatly interested to know what changes Receiver Trumbull will make when he assumes control for the Union Pacific, Denver and Gulf. He was today closeted with Superintendent W. A. Deuel, gathering information regarding the property. It is stated that a number of the locomotives, the property of this company, have been used on other divisions of the Union Pacific system, and these must be returned to Denver. Mr. Trumbull today stated that a sufficient number of locomotives are owned by the company to operate the system.

Another interesting matter to be determined relates to the express business. The Pacific Express has a contract with the Union Pacific, but it is probable that rival express companies will seek to secure the contract from Receiver Trumbull.

New York Stock Market.

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—Money on call has been easy, ranging from 1@1½; last loan at 1½, and closing offered at 1½ per cent. Prime mercantile paper 3½@4½ per cent.

The dealings at the stock exchange still constitute a mere traders' market. The volume of business to-day showed a heavy falling off—the sales footing up the very small total of 146,184 shares against 218,173 yesterday. Just previous to the close, some of the traders showed a disposition to reduce their outstanding short lines and their purchases caused the market to leave off firm. Railway and miscellaneous bonds were firm. The sales were $1,030,000.

Massachusetts City Elections.

BOSTON, Dec. 12.—With some 90 out of the 205 precincts in this city to hear from, Mayor Matthews (Dem.) has about 7,000 plurality.

Mayor W. A. Bancroft (Cit.) is re-elected in Cambridge by about 1,500 plurality.

Rio Grande Earnings.

DENVER, Dec. 12.—The estimated earnings of the Denver and Rio Grande railroad for the first week of December are announced as follows: Freight, $107,100; passenger, $15,500; express, mails, etc., $13,200; total, $135,800. Compared with the earnings of the corresponding time of last year, a decrease of $19,700 is shown.

IN CONGRESS.

Important Matters Considered in House and Senate.

UTAH AND FEDERAL ELECTIONS.

A Measure Found to Which Gilgore of Texas Does Not Object. He Wants Utah to be a State Cultivating for Honest Elections.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—Among the various communications and petitions presented and referred was a petition from the Chamber of Commerce of the city of Seattle, Wash., praying for the establishment of a national park in that State. A bill for that purpose was introduced by Mr. Squire (Rep.) of Washington, and referred to the Committee on Public Lands.

Mr. Cullom (Rep.) of Illinois indicated a desire to address the Senate on the bill to repeal the Federal Election laws; but as the Hawaiian resolution offered yesterday by Mr. Hoar (Rep.) of Massachusetts—and a resolution offered yesterday by Mr. Peffer (Pop.) of Kansas, had precedence in the morning hour, unanimous consent was given that those resolutions should remain on the table and should be presented at a later hour to-day or to-morrow.

Mr. Cullom thereupon addressed the Senate. After a brief history of the protection of the election franchise from fraud, beginning with the clause of the constitution declaring that the time, places and manner of holding elections for Senators and Representatives shall be prescribed in each State by the legislature thereof; but that Congress may at any time, by law, make or alter such regulations except as to places of choosing Senators, he said there never had been any serious question as to the scope and meaning of that constitutional provision, what was the cause, he asked, of the present demand for the repeal of the laws passed by Congress on the subject? Had any man suffered any injustice by reason of their existence or enforcement? Had any person been wronged by laws which were intended to prevent wrong? The contention of those who urged the repeal of those laws seemed to be based mainly upon the theory that the States alone were charged with the police control of an election, and that Federal government had no call to interfere even for the protection of its own direct and most important interests. If that were the true rule, why had the Constitution given to Congress the right to make or alter the prescription of the State legislature? No Senator would fail to perceive that the discussion brought Senators back to the identical question which his friends in the south had attempted to settle at Fort Sumpter in 1861, and which reached a final settlement in 1865.

It was idle, he said, for Congress to sit supinely down, contented with the false theory that the States had full control of the franchise. That was a policy fundamentally wrong and indefensible, and was in line with the arguments once used in justification for the disruption of the Union. His Democratic friends, he thought, were not exercising their usual shrewdness in overthrowing salutary regulations which would be under their own control. He, as a Republican, would rather have such a system of laws, meant and intended solely for the proper protection of the honest and legitimate voter, even if every official agency for their enforcement should be of the Democratic party.

At the close of Mr. Cullom's speech (at 1:50) the presiding officer (Mr. Harris, Dem., of Tennessee) laid the Hoar Hawaiian resolution before the Senate, but, at the suggestion of Mr. Manderson (Rep.) of Nebraska, it went over till to-morrow.

Mr. Stewart (Pop.) of Nevada then addressed the Senate in favor of the repeal of the federal election laws. He was satisfied, he said, that federal interference in local elections was vicious in principle, vicious in practice and vicious in results. Having thus expressed himself on the subject before the Senate, Mr. Stewart diverged into a long dissertation on the question of gold and silver. He did not have many Senators to listen to him; and that fact stirred up Mr. Peffer (Pop.) of Kansas to call attention to it. A call of the Senate resulted, when forty-eight Senators answered, and Mr. Stewart went on and finished his remarks.

A futile attempt was then made to dispose of some business on the calendar. The first bill reached was the one in reference to the famous McGarrihan claim; but, as Mr. Teller (Rep.) of Colorado, who reported it and has charge of it, has not been present yet this session, the bill was passed over informally, and the Senate proceeded to executive business, and at 3:30 p. m. adjourned until to-morrow.

HOUSE.

Mr. Harmer (Rep.) of Pennsylvania presented a memorial from workingmen and other citizens of Frankford, Pa., protesting against the passage of the Wilson Tariff bill.

Mr. Wheeler (Dem.) of Alabama, chairman of the Committee on Territories, called up the bill for the admission of Utah and asked that the first reading of the bill be dispensed with.

Mr. Tracey (Dem.) of New York objected and the bill was read the first time.

Mr. Kilgore (Dem.) of Texas spoke in favor of the erection of Utah into a State. It had the requisite population (225,000) and wealth ($150,000,000 or $200,000,000); it had public schools in every county and every community, and the Republican party was as thoroughly organized as the Democratic party. Mr. Kilgore believed that polygamy and the endowment house institutions were dead and the chief objections to the admission of the territory were thus removed.

Mr. Blair (Rep.) of New Hampshire, interrupted Mr. Kilgore to assert that polygamy was not dead in the territory; that it was merely held in temporary subjection by the Federal law, and that the Federal law would be repealed by the enactment of an enabling act for Utah. The fact that there had been no trials of late for polygamy might be explained by the fact that amnesty had been granted by the proclamation of President Harrison.

Mr. Kilgore continued his remarks in favor of the bill, and when his time had expired he was followed by Mr. Morse (Rep.) of Massachusetts. Mr. Morse was opposed to the erection of Utah into a State; but, if it must be admitted, he was in favor of the amendment to the bill offered by the minority in the House. He did not want to see any more "mining camps" admitted into the Union having a smaller population than one district in his State.

This remark was resented by the representatives of several of the new Western States, notably by Mr. Wilson of Washington and Mr. Pickler of South Dakota.

Mr. Morse was followed by Delegate Rawlins of Utah, who delivered an earnest and eloquent speech in favor of the bill. Polygamy, he said, was dying from natural causes and in a short time would cease to exist altogether. The people were not as credulous now as in former years, and, while they believed forty or fifty years ago in divine approval of polygamy and divine protection for those who practiced it, they were more enlightened now.

Mr. Rawlins pricked with his rapier of satire several members who were opposed to the bill, but he seemed to derive special pleasure in lunging at Mr. Wilson of Washington and Mr. Morse of Massachusetts.

Mr. Rawlins's time having expired, he was unanimously granted permission to conclude.

He stated that the people of Utah and the leaders of the Mormon Church had no wish to revive polygamy. The law providing for the admission of Utah invoked the obnoxious Edmunds-Tucker act, "which," he said, "is an insult to the people. I think I know the people who will dominate in affairs if this bill should pass, and you will never regret your action if you pass this bill."

Mr. Harter (Dem.) of Ohio briefly addressed the committee in opposition to the bill. There are too many States in the Union which are too small and Delaware and Rhode Island would not be admitted to the sisterhood of States in this day. They fought their way. "Let us digest our dinner of new States before we go to our supper. Let us civilize Kansas before we take in other States."

At 5:20 Mr. Harter closed his remarks and the House adjourned.

SHOT HIS PARTNER.

A Dispute Over a Mining Claim Resulted in a Shooting.

Special to THE GAZETTE.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Dec. 12.—Carl Leslie, a miner, this morning at 8 o'clock, at Hull's camp, shot his partner, R. L. Crosier, through the fleshy part of the leg with a .38 caliber revolver, and that the wound was not more serious appears to have been no fault of Leslie's. The men quarrelled over a lease they hold on a claim known as the Queen of the Hills. Leslie was arrested but is out on bonds.

A Bold Robbery.

CHICAGO, Dec. 12.—While Andrew J. Robertson, wholesale stamp clerk in the postoffice, was balancing up his accounts this evening he was attacked by a robber and beaten to insensibility. The amount stolen is estimated at from $7,000 to $25,000.

TELEGRAPH BREVITIES.

The French Senate to-day passed the Press bill adopted by the Chamber of Deputies Monday. There was not a dissenting vote. President Carnot signed the bill to-night, and it will be published in the official journal to-morrow and will be enforced immediately thereafter.

The President nominated Jas. H. Jordan to be Postmaster at Denver.

VISITED THE KEELEY.

An Enjoyable Entertainment for the County Representatives.

The members of Keely League No. 1 gave an entertainment complimentary to the county commissioners of Colorado last evening at the Keeley Institute. Preliminary to the entertainment proper, the commissioners witnessed the whole line of twenty-three patients "take the shot."

The programme which was a varied but interesting one was enjoyed by a large audience besides the commissioners, and consisted of songs, recitations and piano duets, interpersed with speeches.

Dr. Rice in his address described the workings of the Keeley Cure and the history of the Institute. He stated that in the two years of the Institute's existence in this city, 500 patients had been cured and less than 5 per cent. of the graduates had relapsed.

Hon. T. W. Mullahey of Denver, in an earnest speech, urged upon the commissioners the advisability of sending their patients to the Keely, and not to the imitation "cures." Hon. H. H. Eddy also made an earnest speech on the same line.

Mr. J. T. Dudley recited a poem entitled, "Only a Year Ago," and Mrs. Noble recited a very humorous poem entitled "Geese."

Mr. Walter Bourne contributed songs and recitations which were heartily received and led the club songs in which the audience joined.

At the close the commissioners voted Major Insley and the Keeley people a vote of thanks for the instruction and entertainment given them.

The Florence Cripple Creek Railroad.

DENVER, Dec. 12.—Mr. W. E. Johnson, president of the Florence Cripple Creek and State Line Railroad will arrive in Denver to-morrow ready to order the contractors to start to work upon the construction of the road.

The company's plan includes not only the construction of the road from Florence to Cripple Creek, but $400,000 of the $1,000,000 of the capitalization fund will be used in the erection of stamp mills at Florence. The track of the road will be narrow guage with 50 pound rails, and it will be equipped with narrow guage rolling stock rented from the Rio Grande railroad.

Knights of Honor lodge, No. 2765, at its meeting last night elected the following officers: Past dictator, J. W. Chapman; dictator, William Scott; vice-dictator, W. T. Barr; assistant dictator, Thomas Barber; reporter, R. B. Taylor; financial reporter, L. B. Farrar; treasurer, J. S. Gibson; chaplain, F. F. Rudy; guide, Ike Oppenheimer; guardian, W. H. Mills; sentinel, F. C. Goodrich; trustees, H. L. Benjamin, F. F. Rudy, R. B. Taylor; representative to grand lodge, J. S. Gibson; alternate, F. F. Rudy.

Additional Mining News.

Mr. Percy Hagerman returned from camp yesterday with a big sack of something interesting tied with a double bow-knot. He says the camp never looked better.

An adverse suit filed in the District court yesterday is entitled John E. McKinley and M. K. Hopkins vs. C. L. Ogden et al, being an adverse of the Black Iron against the Ogden, Little Dan and the Fraction.

Shipments have not been quite so heavy from the camp lately, owing to the desire to take advantage of the railroad rate and the saving thereby occasioned. Judging from the amount of ore in readiness it will not take long for the Terminal to pay for itself.

Mr. Sherwood Aldrich made the dust fly in the arena of the Denver Exchange yesterday. Nobody up there has any sand when a Colorado Springs broker is in the field. Bidding is exceedingly animated but at such low figures that there is a good wide margin of safety.

The result of the Calumet hearing in the District court yesterday was the dissolving of both injunctions, bringing the status of both parties practically back to first principles. Mr. Jones has got his notes and the company its claims. What will they do next?

Meeting of the State Board of County Commissioners.

EXTRA SESSION REPUDIATED.

A Great Ore Shipment from the Anaconda—Mr. Hagerman Talks of Mollie Gibson Affairs and Denies a False Rumor.

The State Board of County Commissioners began its annual session in this city yesterday with a good attendance. This body is made up from representatives of the different boards of commissioners in the State, and meets annually to discuss the work and to outline needed legislation. One can hardly realize the value of such an association without attending a session of the body, as they find a great deal to discuss, especially regarding uniformity of action and interpretation of the laws.

The meeting was called to order by President J. C. Plumb of this county, at 10 o'clock in the morning, pursuant to a call by Secretary C. M. Rigley. There were about thirty commissioners present, not as many as usually attend, as this is an off year. It is thought that the business can all be completed by this evening. All of the large counties in the State are represented excepting Pueblo.

After the preliminary organization a committee on permanent order of business was appointed as follows: Broad of Jefferson, Sherman of Kiowa, Carlisle of Gunnison, McCabe of Kit Carson, Murray of Bent. The committee reported an order of business as follows: Roll call, presenting petitions and communications, reports of officers, Reports of committees; miscellaneous business; election of officers. The committee also reported a resolution in effect as follows: The membership of this organization shall consist of all the members of boards of County Commissioners throughout this State. Each member in attendance is entitled to cast one vote. The annual dues to be paid by each county for full representation in this body shall be as follows: Counties of the first class $25, counties of the second and third class $20, counties of the fourth class $15, counties of the fifth class $10. After a thorough discussion the resolution was adopted.

At the request of the president, Major Insley of the Keeley Institute addressed the board regarding the matter of sending county liquor patients to the institution here. He extended an invitation to the members to be present at the institution in the evening, which was accepted.

The reports of Treasurer Twombley of Arapahoe and Secretary Rigley of Bent, were read and approved. The commissioners then adjourned until after dinner, but during the interim visited the new county jail, with which they expressed much satisfaction.

At the afternoon session the following resolution was submitted by Mr. Boynton of El Paso and seconded by Mr. Twombley of Arapahoe:

Resolved, That in our judgment an extra session of the legislature as proposed by Governor Waite would be of incalculable injury to the State, and that if the Governor persists in calling said extra session of the legislature we trust the legislators will adopt proper condemnatory resolutions and at once adjourn.

After considerable debate the resolutions were adopted with only one dissenting vote.

In the afternoon the time was largely taken up with the discussion of economic measures advantageous to county governments, and particularly in regard to the care of the insane, fees of water commissioners and sheriffs, matters out of which it was agreed that many abuses arise.

The meeting adjourned about 5 o'clock until 10 this morning.

A RECORD BREAKER.

Such Was the Shipment From the Anaconda Yesterday.

Special to THE GAZETTE.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Colo., Dec. 12.—Milo Hoskins, superintendent of the Anaconda mine, yesterday shipped a carload of twenty-five tons of ore to the Denver smelters which will probably return the largest amount of money ever received for a single carload of ore shipped from this district. A careful sack sample was made of the entire lot which showed by assay, thirty ounces per ton. Knowing that the shipment was unusually rich, Superintendent Hoskins and James Doyle, the assayer, had the entire lot resampled very carefully, when much to their astonishment the second sample showed forty ounces per ton, or a total of $20,000 for the carload. At the same time four carloads of second grade assayed ten ounces per ton or at the rate of $5,000 per car load, making a total of $40,000 worth of ore shipped in one day. There have been shipments of ore that ran higher to the ton and some of them have sent out a greater amount per month, but this shipment is a record breaker in the matter of value sent out at any one time. This ore has all been taken out in the past three weeks, and at no time were there more than twenty men employed on the mine in the portion from which the shipment was made.

MOLLIE GIBSON.

Mr. Hagerman Talks About the Celebrated Silver Mine.

There have been so many idle rumors started regarding Mollie Gibson mining stock, that yesterday afternoon a representative of THE GAZETTE called on Mr. J. J. Hagerman, president of the company, and asked him a number of questions regarding the property. The call was prompted by the latest rumor started to the effect that the Smuggler people were talking of an apex suit. The reporter asked the following question:

"Mr. Hagerman, I have called to ask you some questions about the Mollie Gibson mine. It is reported about town that one reason for the drop in the stock is a threatened apex suit against the Gibson by the Smuggler Mining company. What truth, if any, is there in this report, and can you tell me how it originated?"

In reply Mr. Hagerman said: "There is no truth whatever in the report, and it is absurb on its face. Anyone taking the trouble to look at a map of Aspen mining claims can see that the Smuggler and Gibson claims join at their ends. Their end lines coincide and their side lines are parallel. The strike of the outcrop, or apex of the contact, in which the ore is found, is parallel to the side lines of the claims. Everyone knows that a mining claim has extra lateral rights only within its end lines extended in straight parallel lines. Therefore whatever ore chutes or veins which might originate in the Smuggler could only come into the Gibson by passing through its end lines, beyond which they could not be legally followed. Besides all this the Smuggler people have never talked of, thought of, or suggested any apex or other claim, nor has anyone in their behalf. The whole story is too absurd to pay any attention to."

The next question propounded was: "I understand the lower levels of the Gibson were drowned out last July. When will the water be removed and the lower levels be developed?"

The answer was: "Preparing to pump out the lower half of the mine has been a slow and costly job, but it will soon be accomplished. I just received this telegram from Mr. Palmer:

ASPEN, Dec. 12, 1893.

J. J. Hagerman, Colorado Springs:

Began pumping at 11. Water down forty feet from eighth level at 2:30. Everything going well.

C. F. PALMER.

"Do you anticipate any trouble in unwatering the mine?"

"None whatever," was the answer. "It was wholly a question of getting a good ready. We have now the biggest and best plant in the State."

GENERAL REVIEW.

The threatening weather of yesterday morning provided a dull day as is usually the case, and for a short time it seemed that the inevitable must be submitted to, that stocks must hang as heavy as the weather. But as the hours wore away there was a steady and distinctly perceptible clearing of the market skies, and toward noon business had well recovered, and the transactions began to mount up to their usual figures. The wave of strength continued its uninterrupted course throughout the afternoon, with possibly one exception, and the market closed with the most healthy tone shown for some days.

Anaconda has as of yore perched itself on the most conspicuous pedestal with Summit a worthy companion; the one has pegged two and a half points and has apparently taken itself off—it can't be found—and the other is practically impossible to get at an advance of a half. An isolated sale of Blue Bell cut no particular figure. Calumet still stands like a frightened bird, scarce knowing which way to turn. While it weakened somewhat toward noon, it was held tolerably firm at the close at figure quoted. Cripple Creek Consolidated showed some improvement, also Golden Dale.

Isabella has experienced a stiff demand with no stock forthcoming at figures offered. It is unusual that with such persistent inquiry no stock should have moved. It seems that a higher figure must be hung up to have any effect upon it.

Pharmacist has ruled steady with a small advance. The sales have been large but the stock is exceedingly had to get at the figures. Work is a shade weaker. It is remarkable that the sympathies of this stock should be so promptly affected by a change in Calumet, but such seems at present to be the case. There is no good reason for it. Mollie Gibson weakened in the course of the morning, touching five points below the closing quotation as given above. Buyers seemed to come to their senses at this low mark and a brisk demand set in sending it to the present figure at which it is hardly possible that it will stop. Stocks never seem to be much in demand ex-dividend. After the books are opened again, look out.

On the whole the day's doings have been of a most substantial and satisfactory nature.

THE DENVER PIT.

DENVER, Dec. 12.—The feature of the market to-day was the decline of Mollie Gibson, which was very weak, actually touching $1.50, either for time or cash, but recovering at the close to $1.65. Other stocks were fairly strong and in good demand. Sales in the Cripple Creeks on call were 3000 Alamo at 1½c, 5000 Calumet at 3½c, 15,000 Creede and Cripple Creek at 1c, 24,000 Work at 3½c, 1000 World at 1½. Total sales on 'change 67,000.

CURRENT NEWS.

The case of the Princess vs. Ingham was taken under advisement by Judge Campbell and a decision will probably be rendered this week.

Mr. Milo Hoskins, superintendent of the Anaconda company, was in the city on business yesterday. He will probably return to camp to-morrow.

In the District court yesterday afternoon the Doubtful and Portland injunction suit came up again. Judge Campbell gave his decision that he would not at present restrain the Portland from working but the Doubtful may renew the application. He gave the Doubtful people the right to work on the disputed territory to determine as to the apex of the vein, also to survey and inspect the Portland workings.

ADJOURNMENT IS BEST.

Since it was announced that there is to be an extra session of the legislature, a few newspapers in the State, caught by one of the Governor's various offered baits, have been offering schemes for the consideration of our law-makers. The Pueblo Chieftain wants a State ditch; the Cripple Creek Journal hints at a new county; other papers want the Governor impeached; the Denver News wants a law enacted to take physicians into the pay of the State and require them to keep people well; and various other schemes are proposed. Some of these schemes are well enough in themselves, but none of them are important enough to counterbalance the expense of long session or the evils which such a session might bring upon the State.

The duty of the legislature is to save the people the expense of a long session, and to rebuke the Governor's wild schemes to restore confidence and to give notice to the world that the State does not endorse Waite, by an adjournment just as soon as the Governor's message can be laid upon the table.

We hear it said that there are too many five-dollar-a-day men in the legislature to make it possible to carry out such a programme. We shall see about that. We do not believe the majority of the legislators are five-dollar-a-day men, nor that a majority will brand themselves as such by refusing to vote for adjournment.

MR. WILSON'S CONFESSION.

In the brief which he submitted to the public as a summary of his tariff bill, Professor Wilson made no argument, or what was intended for an argument, in support of ad valorem duties, and stated, truly, that all the duties in the proposed bill, so far as possible, had been levied on the ad valorem system.

For the past two days Mr. Wilson and his Democratic colleagues on the Ways and Means Committee have been tinkering the proposed bill, and they have changed the manner of levying, from ad valorem to specific, on tin plate, pearl buttons, silk, fire brick, acetate of lead, nitrate of lead, red lead, and iron and steel plate.

If ad valorem duties are better in principle than specific duties, these changes ought not to have been made.

If specific duties are better than ad valorem duties, a great many more changes are needed.

Mr. Wilson cannot escape from this dilemma. The change from ad valorem to specific duties on a dozen articles is a confession that specific duties are the better. This being so, the House ought to recommit the bill to the committee, with instructions to make the duties specific wherever that is possible; and with further instructions to levy the duties in such a way on such articles, and to such an amount, that the amount of revenue to be collected under its provisions shall be sufficient for the needs of the government economically administered. Such instructions would be a combination of good Democratic doctrine and good sense which would lead the people of the United States to have a much greater respect for Democratic capacity than at present they are able to entertain.

Speaker Crisp has decided that the Representatives in the House are national representatives, and not "ambassadors" from particular States. In face of a protest from General Wheeler of Alabama that the roll of the House when it first met ought to be called by States, Mr. Crisp ordered it called alphabetically. We congratulate Mr. Crisp and the Southern Democrats generally on this decision. It is a recognition of the national character of the House such as we have not had from a Southern politician for many years.

The seat in Congress just vacated by the death of the vereran Charles O'Neill will be filled by Mr. Robert Adams, Jr. Mr. Adams is a gentleman and a scholar, a good debater, and has had experience in public affairs as Minister to Brazil under the Harrison administration. It is safe to predict that before he leaves the House he will be recognized as one of the strong men on the Republican side.

Now Congress threatens us with a deluge of "wildcat" money. The majority of the House Committee on Banking and Currency seem to have made up that portion of their anatomy which corresponds with the mind of sane persons to report favorably a bill repealing the tax on State bank issues. If it is made a caucus measure, it can be railroaded through the House.

Mr. Talbert of South Carolina is a man of ideas. He has introduced a resolution in the House of Representatives instructing the Ways and Means committee to take back the Wilson bill and frame a measure that shall embody the principles that were enunciated in the Democratic platform of 1892.

It is rumored that Mr. Cleveland has transferred his monarchical affections from Lahu-kalani to Kaiulani. Personally, the latter may be preferable, but the people of the United States have no use for either.

Mr. Cleveland has told the country what Congress is going to do about the income tax, but Congress has yet to hear from the Ways and Means committee's report which formulates the Dictator's ideas on that subject.

The new mining column in THE GAZETTE is already an assured success. We shall spare no pains to make it the best department of its kind in the State.

Why didn't Mr. Cleveland say anything in his message about the repeal of the Federal Election laws? Has David B. Hill pre-empted that subject?

All previous records of newspaper enterprise in Colorado Springs will be cast into the shade by THE GAZETTE of Jan. 1, 1894.

The "personal comfort" of Mr. Cleveland would be enhanced if Senator Hoar could be removed from Washington.

Even Bailey's bankruptcy bill would probably be better than no national bankruptcy law whatever.

ON THE GREAT PRAIRIES.

Vastness, Isolation and Monotony Reign In the Treeless Plain Stretches.

If there be any region in the world where the natural gregarious instinct of mankind should assert itself, that region is our northwestern prairies, where a short, hot summer is followed by a long, cold winter, and where there is little in the aspect of nature to furnish food for thought. On every hand the treeless plain stretches away to the horizon line. In summer it is checkered with grain fields or carpeted with grass and flowers, and it is inspiring in its color and vastness, but one mile of it is almost exactly like another, save where some watercourse nurtures a fringe of willows and cottonwoods. When the snow covers the ground, the prospect is bleak and displiriting. No brooks babble under icy armor. There is no bird life effect the wild geese and ducks have passed on their way south. The silence of death rests on the vast landscape, save when it is swept by cruel winds that search out every cranny and crainy of the buildings and drive the ingrieach unguarded aperture the dry, powdery snow.

In such a region you would expect the dwellings to be of substantial construction, but they are not. The new settler is too poor to build of brick or stone. He hauls few loads of lumber from the nearest railway station and puts up a frail little house of two, three or four rooms that looks as though the prairie winds would blow it away. Were it not for the invention of tarred building paper the flimsy walls would not keep out the wind and snow. With this paper the walls are sheathed under the weatherboards. The barn is often a nondescript affair of sod walls and straw roof. Lumber is much too dear to be used for door yard fences, and there is no inclosure about the house. A barbed wire fence surrounds the farmyard. Rarely are there any trees, for on the prairie trees grow very slowly and must be nursed with care to get a start. There is a saying that you must first get the Indian out of the soil before a tree will grow at all, which means that some savage quality must be taken from the ground by cultivation.

In this cramped abode, from the windows of which there is nothing more cheerful in sight than the distant homes of other settlers, just as ugly and lonely, and stacks of straw and unthrashed grain, the farmer's family must live. In the summer there is a school for the children one, two or three miles away, but in winter the distances across the snow-covered plains are too great for them to travel in severe weather. The schoolhouse is closed, and there is nothing for them to do but to house themselves and long for spring.—Atlantic Monthly.

A Curious Phenomenon.

A most curious phenomenon—the action of solids held in suspension in moving water—may be practically demonstrated, says M. Gallois, by taking a bottle of white glass, about 3 inches in diameter and with a flat bottom, putting into it to the depth of about one-fifth inch some fine and very clean silicious sand, such as will not interfere with the transparency of the water, filling the bottle with this and corking it so as to exclude all air. On giving the bottle a rapid movement of rotation around its own axis, either by placing it on a turntable or by suspending it from a previously well twisted cord, all the sand will be projected upon the cylindrical sides of the bottle by centrifugal force.

This rotation movement of the bottle will gradually communicate itself to the water, progressing from the sides to the axis, the rotation lasting as long as the sand adheres to the cylinder. As soon as the water turns with the same velocity as the bottle containing it, the sand will, on the bottle being suddenly stopped, at once quit the sides and precipitate itself toward the center of the bottle in the form of a cloud, and then reassemble its particles on the bottom in the form of a cone, having the same axis as the bottle, and being higher as the velocity of rotation is greater. Finally, the cone flattens as the velocity of rotation grows less, until the slope of the conical surface is the slope of equilibrium of grains of sand in still water.—New York Sun.

The Colon and Its Uses.

A son of Horace Mann, who lives in Washington, has an unusual fashion of signing all documents. He is Mr. B. Pickman Mann and is well known as a writer. Mr. Mann is a graduate of Harvard and holds an important position in the patent office. The colon, which follows the first initial would be Greek to the wayfaring man, but it is only a symbol for Benjamin. Some years ago the American Librarian association, of which Mr. Mann is a member, was much exercised over some manner of abbreviating names so as to decrease the work of cataloguing, which in large libraries is enormous. They adopted a list of common names of persons which should be abbreviated by using the first letter of the name followed by a colon. For the sake of consistency, and believing the custom would be a good one, they adopted the fashion.

The late Mr. Ben: Perley Poore, known so long and so favorably in Washington, used this style long before the company of learned librarians approved it. The list now in use is a large one. Some of the most common signs are W: for William; H: for Henry, and J: for James.—Washington Post.

The Word Vim.

According to my opinion, the use of this word as a synonym of energy, vigor, etc., has arisen in this way: Some pedantic journalist, considering perhaps the Anglo Saxon noun "strength" too vulgar, and wishing to entertain his readers with a Latin expression, chose the word "vis," probably in connection with a verb governing the accusative case, but reluctant to offend against the sacred rules of Latin grammar he employed the accusative "vim."

This mode of expression may have been repeated several times, and as the people liked the sound of the word, even without knowing what it meant, they also employed it in instances in which no accusative was required, and thus the misused word became a current expression.—Notes and Queries.

Willing to Kick.

The major was telling how he had won battles which others had claimed the glory of when Sobbing one of his hearers said, "I saw a man yesterday who would give the world to kick you."

"Kick me!" shouted the major. "I demand his name, sir."

"Well, if you insist on knowing—but, mark you, major, it must go no further—the man was old Sergeant Billy Waters of the First artillery, who lost both his legs by the explosion of a shell. Faith, he'd give all he has or hopes to have to be able to kick anybody."—London Tit-Bits.

ABSOLUTELY PURE

SAID IN A BLUNT WAY

THE PRESIDENT'S REFERENCE TO THE SEED DISTRIBUTION FARCE.

How He Rubs Congressional Fur the Wrong Way—The Postmaster General Comes In For a Share of Condemnation Also—Bissell's Idea of Appointing Postmasters.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12. [Special.]—There has been a great deal of gossip in Washington concerning Mr. Cleveland's blunt way of saying things which members of congress and senators do not like. In his message the president managed, probably without intention, to pour a little vinegar into the wounds which were caused by that sentence in a letter of his written some time ago in which he spoke of "having congress on his hands" again soon. Those passages in the annual message to which members of the national legislature take exceptions are the ones relating to the wastefulness of seed distribution by congressmen and the relations of congressmen to civil service reform. The president's objectionable words were as follows: "It surely never could have entered the minds of those who first sanctioned appropriations of public money for the purchase of new and improved varieties of seeds for gratuitous distribution that from this would grow large appropriations for the purchase and distribution by members of congress of ordinary seeds, bulbs and cuttings which are common to all the states and territories and everywhere easily obtainable at low prices. * * * Yet this indiscriminate and wasteful distribution by legislation and legislators continues, answering no purpose unless it be to remind constituents that their representatives are willing to remember them with gratuities at public cost."

A Standing Joke.

There is not a congressman in Washington who does not know that the president tells the truth in this matter. The seed business has for years been nothing but a cheap method of electioneering, of tickling the fancy of constituents at the expense of the government. The seed distribution business has become a standing joke, and congressmen laugh at it as much as any one. They know it is a farce, and that it is a mere waste of public money, but they do not like to have their attention called to it by the president of the United States. They think the president should pay more heed to their dignity and to the comity which, according to tradition, exists between the two great co-ordinate branches of the government. They say it is not the business of Mr. Cleveland to lecture them over such a small matter. In their opinion the reform which the president proposes, that of abolition of the seed business, may be a wholesome one; but they cannot see why he does not recommend his reform, if he is determined to have it, without rapping them over the knuckles. This is just where the fun comes in, for the president appears to be inordinately fond of taking a crack at his friends on the hill.

Another Famous Phrase.

In his little discourse about civil service reform the president rubbed the congressional fur the wrong way when he said, "The law embodying this reform found its way into the statute book more from fear of the popular sentiment existing in its favor than from any love for the reform itself on the part of legislators." Thus the president stated another truth in an unpleasant and unwelcome way. The statesmen who sit in the two houses of congress admit this is true, and the most of them who voted for the civil service law are sorry they ever did so, which they frankly admit. But they do not like to have the president call them "spoilsmen," as he does in his next sentence, and say he should be able to find a way to praise civil service reform and advocate its extension without insulting members of the other branch of the government. When the average congressman is offended by the executive, he always falls back upon the traditional and more or less real dignity of his branch of the government. Those Democratic congressmen who were offended by the president's remarks on this head found some comfort in the evident slap at the Mugwumps which immediately follows, where the president refers to the "querulous impracticability of many self constituted guardians" of civil service reform. "Querulous impracticability" has been seized upon by the gossips of the capital as another picturesque contribution by President Cleveland to the phrases of our day. It is heard on every side. Senators and representatives greet one another with the playful remark: "You have querulous impracticability. Why don't you take something for it?" Or, "Where did you catch that bad case of querulous impracticability which you have in your head?" This phrase is destined to become almost as famous as "innocuous desuetude" or "where am I at?"

Good Natured and Wise.

Strange to say, the congressmen do not like Postmaster General Bissell any better than they like Mr. Cleveland. They accuse the fat faced and good natured postmaster general with being a large sized imitation of his chief in the White House. To hear the average member of congress talk about the postoffice department and its head one would think that Mr. Bissell had been studying all Mr. Cleveland's sly little ways of offending the men who think themselves great statesmen, adding thereto a few frills of his own. Of course all the trouble is about the postoffices. Mr. Bissell does not always appoint the men whom the congressmen recommend for the honors of licking stamps. In fact, Mr. Bissell told a delegation of Missouri congressmen the other day that he had searched the constitution and the statutes through without finding a single word about the responsibility of senators and representatives in congress for the appointment of postmasters. Mr. Bissell said this with a playful smile upon his face and dainty dimples dancing through his cheeks, but he meant it, just the same, as some of those very congressmen have discovered to their sorrow. Things have come to such a pass that the postoffice recommendation of a Democratic senator or representative may bring the appointment, and it may not, and of course this is a state of affairs which in the opinion of the average statesman is akin to revolution and destruction of the liberties of the people.

The capital has just had its first taste of winter. The snows have mantled the big white capitol and tipped the Washington monument with frieze. There has been sleighing in the streets of the capital, an unusual occurrence. Washington is not built for a winter city. The street pavements, being of asphalt and as smooth as floors, are frightful horse traps when snow falls or ice and slush cover the roadways. A two inch fall of snow nearly knocks Washington out," as the saying is. The grocers have great difficulty in delivering goods.

THE NITRO-METALS.—The compounds of metals with nitrogen peroxide discovered by M. Mond and other French chemists, have received the name of "nitro-metals," and are formed by allowing the vapor of nitrogen peroxide to stream over powdered copper, cobalt, nickel or iron. Nitro-copper is described as a brown substance, with the useful property of absorbing and storing nitrogen peroxide and liberating it on being slightly heated. Nitro-cobalt is black, and when mixed with a combustible forms a violent explosive. Nitro-nickel is also black, and deflagrates with explosive force in a current of inert gas. Nitro-iron is the most difficult to isolate, and is very apt to deflagrate in the process.

...tion's injustice to them and their ... compelled to rub elbows with pained, ...educating creatures, with female lobby... ...with congressional talent.

It was a happy idea to put this old chamber... ...is difficult to see what else could have been done with it that would have been half as seemly and impressive. The suggestion was made so long ago as 1851 by Senator Morrill, who was then a member of the house. Though nearly 30 years have passed since each of the states of the Union was invited to place here statues in marble or bronze of two of its great men, only a few of the commonwealths have responded. There are only two dozen statues and busts in the hall, and of these only two or three have been contributed by the states under the invitation extended them by congress.

Contributions of States.

Little Rhode Island was the first to respond, sending an admirable statue of Roger Williams, the pioneer apostle of religious liberty and founder of the plantation which afterward became the smallest state in the great Union. Present also General Nathanial Greene of Revolutionary fame.

Connecticut was next. She sent marble representations of Jonathan Trumbull and Roger Sherman. Few of the visitors who gaze upon the statue of the former remember that he was the intimate friend of General Washington, and that Washington called him "Brother Jonathan," thus giving rise to an immortal phrase.

New York is well represented by statues of George Clinton (DeWitt Clinton is better known to the people of the country in this day) and of Robert R. Livingston, the great chancellor who administered the oath of office to President Washington.

Massachusetts sends one of the most noticeable statues in the collection. It is that of Samuel Adams, "Father of the Revolution," of whom it was once written, "All men should erect a statue to him in their hearts." Massachusetts has also a statue of Governor Winthrop.

Vermont proudly erects a heroic statue of Ethan Allen and fills out her quota with Senator Jacob Collamer.

Ohio is represented by Garfield and William Allen, and her statues occupy a post of honor next to the entrance to the house.

New Jersey has contributed the figures of Richard Stockton, a signer of the Declaration of Independence, and of brave General Phil Kearny.

Pennsylvania has erected statues to Robert Fulton, inventor of the steamboat, and Muhlenberg, the heroic little man who said there was a time to pray and a time to fight, and left the pulpit to go to the front in the Revolutionary war.

Michigan has erected a statue to Lewis Cass, and now Illinois honors General Shields. Wisconsin will soon erect a statue of Pere Marquette, the priest who pioneered religion and civilization in the northwest.

Heroes Who Are Missed.

There are other statues in the pantheon, but they were erected by the government and not by the states. Conspicuous among these is the plaster cast of Houdin's Washington, the original of which is at Richmond, and the face of which was made from a death mask, it is said. Noteworthy also is the much criticised statue of Lincoln by Vinnie Ream, for which congress paid the large sum of $15,000. There is a fine statue of Alexander Hamilton and a fairly good one of Thomas Jefferson in bronze. The latter stood long ago in the rotunda of the capitol and was afterward erected in front of the White House, where it stood for many years. There is now no statuary in the grounds about the executive mansion.

Much comment is heard over the absence of statues of Jackson, of Grant, of Sherman and of other heroes of our history. What a beautiful and interesting study this fine old hall will afford when about a dozen more states shall have contributed the marble or bronze figures of their chosen sons!

WALTER WELLMAN.

"A Trip to Chinatown."

Hoyt's best comedy, "A Trip to Chinatown," will be presented at the opera house on Monday evening. The play is not only conceded to be the best of farce comedies, but has to its credit the record of having distanced all competitors, no matter whether in the realms of comedy, opera, farce or tragedy. It was given at Hoyt's Madison Square theater in the city of New York for 650 consecutive performances, no play having had a run before of longer than 603 performances. It will be if possible even more welcome to this city than on its last appearance here, from the fact that this city will see the play for the first time with the original New York cast, including Harry Conor as Welland Strong, George A. Beane, Jr., Anna Boyd, Lottie Mortimer, Julius P. Whitmark, Harry Gilfoil, Madge Deane, Ellie Chapuy, and the celebrated little dancseuse Bessie Clayton, who causes a storm of enthusiasm wherever she appears. Notwithstanding the fact that the opera house has extraordinary resources in the way of scenery, Manager Nye for the house and Manager Hoyt for the play, have determined to bring an entire carload of scenery from the home theater in New York, so that this city may see the great farce-comedy identical even to the slightest detail with the metropolitan production.

Kansas City	$10 75
St. Louis	14 25
Chicago	23 25

A direct connection is made at Pueblo, Colorado Springs, Manitou and Denver with The Missouri Pacific "Fast Mail," connecting in all Union Depots for New York, Boston, Washington, Memphis, New Orleans, and Hot Springs, Ark. Only one change of cars between Colorado and New York City.

CHANGE IN TIME OF THE "MISSOURI PACIFIC FAST MAIL."

Commencing Nov. 12, 1893, the great Missouri Pacific Railway Company will shorten the time of its fast mail train, eastbound. Under the new schedule this justly popular train will leave Denver at 4 p.m., Colorado Springs at 6:25 p.m., arrive at Pueblo at 7:10 p.m., leave Pueblo at 8 p.m., arrive Kansas City 7:30 p.m., leave Kansas City at 8:25 p.m., and arrive at St. Louis at 6:55 a.m., where a direct connection is made in Union depot for all points north, east or south.

By this change in time a direct connection is made at Pueblo with D. & R. G. Train No. 5, from the west, and D. & R. G. Train No. 104, from Southwestern Colorado, enabling passengers to make a great saving in time over the present eastern connection.

By this change in time the great Missouri Pacific Railway Co. has demonstrated its warm friendship toward Colorado in again reducing the time between the West and East.

THE WABASH ROUTE

IF YOU ARE GOING EAST

It will be to your advantage to know:

The Wabash is the Short Line between Kansas City and St. Louis.

The Wabash is the shortest and most direct route between Kansas City and Detroit or Toledo, connecting at both those points with the Trunk Lines East.

The Wabash forms the most convenient route from western points to Chicago, and lands passengers in Chicago more conveniently to the World's Fair lines than any other road.

The Wabash runs finer equipment for both first and second class passengers than any other route.

Call or write C. M. Hampson, Commercial Agent, 1224 17th St., Denver.

MID-WINTER FAIR.

The Mid-winter Fair at San Francisco will open on January 1st, and continue throughout the winter, where all the principal exhibits from the Columbian Exposition, Chicago, will be displayed, will be an additional attraction this winter. The great improvement in passenger train service, higher degree of comfort in the cars, shorter time required on the trip, combined with the cheapness of the excursion tickets now being sold to California and back by the "Santa Fe Route" make the journey desirable, and one can almost say, economical.

The many delightful resorts now established in California afford every comfort and luxury desired by the fastidious, and present unique attractions. The Hotel Del Coronado, San Diego; the Raymond, Pasadena; the Redondo beach and hotels at Santa Barbara, Monterey, Riverside, Los Angeles and many other points have grown famous as any on the Atlantic coast, and a fact that should not be forgotten is that they all are resorts all the year round, although the greatest number of tourists are in California between the months of November and May.

This line offers choice of routes going and returning.

FIFTY-SIX HOURS TO NEW YORK

Via the Wabash. Leave Denver, Pueblo and Colorado Springs, Monday evening. Arrive Kansas City Tuesday, 5 p.m.; arrive Toledo (Wabash Short Line), Wednesday, 4:30 p.m.; Leave Toledo (Lake Shore Flyer), Wednesday, p.m.; arrive New York (New York Central Thursday, 11 a.m.
